Vice President, Administration
	Elise Hudson began her career in technical support, and she naturally migrated into to project management because of her drive for organization and building teams. In 2006, she earned her PMP certification, and in 2011, she completed her Master of Public Affairs. Some of Elise’s specialties are implementing project management processes where none formally exist, change management, and reviving failing projects. One significant career highlight was Elise’s management of a 6-month project supporting scientists at McMurdo Station research base in Antarctica. She intends to visit all 7 continents in her lifetime (especially since the hard one is already checked off).
Immediate Past President
	Chip Nuttall has 15 years of experience in operations and project management. He joined PMI and the Nashville Chapter in 2003 and has served on the Board for the past five years. As Director of IS Planning & Project Management at Genesco, he delivers projects with concurrent technology, process, and resource impacts. Along the way, Chip pays special attention to developing internal leadership. Before joining Genesco, Chip managed projects in healthcare, finance, and retail, directed hotel technology development, and spent several years in hospitality management. Most recently, he spent three years as a Senior Consultant with C3 Consulting. Chip is a Vanderbilt graduate and participates in executive leadership development through the Scarlett Leadership Institute. Chip lives in Brentwood with his wife Alice and their two dogs, Felicity and Annie Oakley.
